Single-Source Building Maintenance

eciService

eciService provides customers with single-source building maintenance and emergency repair services, commercial insurance restorations and construction services for renovations and alterations. Single-source responsibility means that only one call is required to deal with a repair, insurance restoration or construction project. Even if the solution to your problem requires more than one trade, eciService has it covered.

We are on call 24/7 for emergency needs, and have service contracts available. To learn more, schedule a consultation, get an estimate, or request service, Contact:
